Hawkesbury's Going to Rio

At time of going to press, the British Paralympic Association announced the selection of the fourteen members of the British 7-a-side squad for Rio 2016.

We are delighted to reveal that Hawkesbury's very own James Blackwell was formally announced in the Team GB squad for the Rio 2016 Paralympic Games and will be representing Great Britain in September.

30-year-old James, who grew up in Hawkesbury Upton and has played for Gloucestershire County League side Kingswood, made his international debut for England against USA and helped them finish fifth at the CPISRA European Championships in Portugal. The Great Britain team secured qualification for Rio last year by finishing fifth at the 2015

Cerebral Palsy Football World Championships

James has been part of the 7-a-side England Cerebral Palsy football squad and has been focused on being selected for Rio 2016. Unfortunately, whilst playing football for Kingswood last August, James broke his neck and this suddenly seemed an impossibility.

Following months of support from his wife Holly and all the family, along with amazing backing from the England physio and medical team, James has worked his way back to fitness, always with the aim of being able to compete at the Rio 2016 Paralympics.

We wish James and the entire squad good luck and we will be watching with interest! Look out for details of match dates nearer the time in September.

'Save Our Shop' becomes Hawkesbury Stores!

As I write this update we are just 10 days away from completing purchase of the shop building, and - fingers crossed - beginning trading as Hawkesbury Stores, a community-owned business.

An absolutely awesome collective effort from the parish has brought us to this point. The project to 'Save Our Shop' over the past six months has not gone without bumps and twists in the road, but we've done it!

Our appeal for pledges reached just over £140,000 at the end of May. Then we asked pledgers to convert their promise into pounds, and were delighted that many people increased their contribution, while new supporters came forward. At the time of writing we have just over £161,000 in the bank from 275 shareholders, with around 20 pledges still to be realised.

So we say a happy farewell to the 'Save Our Shop' campaign and our attention turns to making Hawkesbury Stores a success. It won't be plain sailing, there is a lot of hard work to do and we really need your support and custom. However, we are grateful that Annie, Kath and Kate are helping us enormously to ensure the smoothest possible transition so hopefully we'll have hit the ground walking, at least, on our first day's trading!

We would also like to thank Bob and Sheila Booth; former Hawkesbury residents and the property vendors. Bob and Sheila successfully ran the shop for many years, setting a benchmark for all those that have followed, and they have shown great willingness to work with us throughout this process, which has been much appreciated.

One of the things that will set us apart from previous shops in the village, is that part of our success will rely on having a large, friendly and diverse team of volunteers to help run it (alongside Kath and Kate). Right now we don't have nearly enough people, so if you have a few hours to spare each week or fortnight please do volunteer. It should be a fun and sociable experience for everyone, so pop in and put your name down if you'd like to help out.

Finally, the official launch of Hawkesbury Stores is pencilled for the morning of Saturday 23 July. Look out for more details and please do come along to celebrate this exciting new village enterprise!

Well done Hawkesbury, you're amazing.

Fiona Writes...

Welcome to the July issue of
At time of going to press, June was likely to be the wettest on record. Here's hoping July will allow us to step outside the door with some chance of knowing what to wear. Sandals? Shorts? Sun cream? Waders? Macs? It's hard to know from one day to the next. Still, the good thing about the deluges is that the veg knows no bounds, growing visibly every day, every hour. Sadly, so are the weeds, but I keep convincing myself that I will get that chance soon to dash out and pull a few up.

By the time you read this, astronaut Maj. Tim Peake be back on earth. Can that only have been a six month mission? Amongst other things, during that time he has made the 1st spacewalk by a UK astronaut, remotely steered a robot back on Earth and run the London Marathon (on a treadmill). After arriving back on earth, I think his feet will hardly hit the ground, before he finds his diary full for the foreseeable future. I look forward to seeing him back safely and continuing to inspire and enthuse young people on his return.

News emerged this week that in rural Hungary, bin lorries are to be replaced by the good, old-fashioned horse & cart. Apparently, horses are more cost-effective, environmentally-friendly and the clip-clop of hooves is far quieter than a diesel truck. The high cost of lorries returning several times a week to collect all the types of recycling required means that horses are a fraction of the cost and relatively low-maintenance. I look forward to the reintroduction here, with the added bonus of some free fertiliser for the roses! It would also be the perfect form of traffic calming on the A46, with the verges being trimmed back for free on route! Bring it on...

This month, there is yet another plethora of events to choose from, ranging from the FOSM Jazz on the Lawn on Sunday 3rd, a trip to Dartmouth for the Evergreens on the 12th, and Morris Dancers at the Beaufort on Monday 27th. What more could you ask for?

Last month Preschool was filled with royal celebrations for the Queen's 90th birthday. The children created fabulous crowns to take along to the village picnic, and many attended a special birthday lunch with the 'big children' at Hawkesbury Primary School. We were so proud of all the children that went along; they behaved impeccably and had a great time.

Our final day of term - and of Preschool's year - will be Thursday 21 July, and we'll be holding a mini graduation ceremony for all the children that are going to school in September. It's quite an emotional time for parents and staff, but very exciting, and as the leavers settle into their schools we will be welcoming several new starters on their Preschool journey.

But, of course, the big event before September is Hawkesbury Show. Once again Preschool will be pulling out all the stops to create a fabulous and fun float. The theme is top secret, but you can guarantee it'll be crazy, colourful, and packed with excited children!

A brilliant band has been confirmed for the legendary Sunday night party in the Show marquee. Tickets are on sale now in Hawkesbury Stores and the Post Office - £8 in advance, and selling fast, so snap yours up soon!

Finally, we'd like to wish everyone a lovely summer holiday, and the very best of luck to all our children that start school in September. It's been an absolute pleasure to watch you all grow in confidence and to help you prepare for the next big adventure!

Hawkesbury Preschool is based in the Village Hall. Sessions run from 8.45am-12.30pm Tuesday-Friday during term time. For more information call Louisa Tooker (Manager) on 07989 484774, email: enquiries@hawkesburypreschool.org.uk or visit: www.hawkesburypreschool.org.uk

A huge THANK YOU to everyone who supported our Dear Zoo/Talent Production.

The girls were fantastic and we made £250.75 towards our coach to the Big Gig pop concerts at Wembley in July.

The coach costs £490, so I was just wondering what else we might need to do, when by the magic of Hawkesbury, an envelope was pushed through my door containing a £200 donation!

So we can go off to our pop concert and even buy a souvenir badge each for the girls.

TROWEL & ERROR

HAWKESBURY GARDENING CLUB

www.hawkesbury-gardening-club.org.uk

Meetings are held at 8pm on the 4th Monday of the month in the Methodist Hall in Back Street.

We recently hosted Michael Smith who gave an entertaining talk about 'Caring for your houseplants'. He reminded us that houseplants were originally wild-flowers and are well adapted to being treated rough. Indeed the most common cause of failure when keeping houseplants is over-watering because wild-flowers are used to taking in water only when it becomes available. So, keep 'em dry and treat 'em rough and then they will thrive and flower well.

A good reason to keep house plants is that the air in our homes is full of invisible, potentially harmful, particles that are left behind from fabric treatment, cleaning materials and many 21st century devices. House plants can remove these and replace them with oxygen. Michael provided a list of some of the best plants to keep for this purpose. These include English Ivy – Hedera helix, Peace Lily – Spathiphyllum species and Boston Fern – Nephrolepis exalta 'Bostoniensis'.

In May we had Tim Hancock from Tortworth Plant Centre over to tell us about Herbaceous Perennials. He brought along a lot of common, and unusual, plants to sell and was not disappointed by the response. He didn't take a lot of them home.

Instead of a meeting in June we went for an evening trip to Hook House Garden & Pottery near Tetbury.

On Sunday evening 24th July we are going to Dewstow House near Chepstow.

You do not need to be a gardener to attend our meetings and there are advantages to becoming a member, such as discounted seeds and coach trips. If you are not a member and would like to hear a speaker that takes your fancy then come along as a guest – entry £3.00.

Watering plants in the garden and greenhouse

Whilst the reasons, for watering are many and varied, it's worth bearing in mind a few rights and wrongs about how to do the job properly. Plants need water at their roots in the main and if one considers that it takes one inch of water to penetrate average soil to a depth of 9 inches care needs to be taken to achieve this. In most cases, established plants growing outside, have roots which will travel downwards and search out the water they need, without our help except in times of drought. If it is decided, that apart from watering in new plants, the garden needs a soaking, much more can be achieved if plants are given a good drench say once weekly than a cursory wetting with the hose-pipe on a regular basis. After using the hose-pipe the garden can look fresh and healthy, but this can be totally superficial, and one usually has no idea how much water has gone into the soil. If this happens on a regular basis, the roots of plants can start to move towards the surface looking for water and can dry out, so that nothing is achieved. It's maybe a good idea to put the hose-pipe away and give plants a good soaking with the watering-can. As previously mentioned, in normal circumstances there should be little need to water established plants in the garden, but pots and containers are an entirely different matter.

Watering container plants

Container plants have the same needs as plants in the garden, but the only source of water they have in a dry spell, is that which the gardener supplies. The same principles apply in terms of water depth but often it is difficult to know just how far down in the compost the water has penetrated. If a pot is picked up, the weight is often enough to indicate whether water is required and if the hand is pushed as far down in the compost as possible, the feel of the compost will be a fair indicator of the plant's needs. It is also possible to buy a meter for a few pounds which will indicate perfectly whether water is needed or not.

Greenhouse watering

In the greenhouse, the gardener is the only supplier of water and good habits are essential. The same principles apply as for container gardening, but timing becomes a bit more important. Most plants do not enjoy having roots standing in water for too long, hence early morning becomes a good time for the job. This also will prevent potential damage to the plants from water being over-heated on leaves and stems from the sun which can cause scalding. Because of work commitments and other needs, this is not possible for everyone, so early evening, before dark, whilst plants are still active should suffice. Whenever the job is done, some kind of regularity is helpful, and amounts of water can only be ascertained with outside conditions and heat in the greenhouse kept in mind. One problem which directly relates to watering irregularity, is blossom end rot on tomatoes. This shows as a brown "corky" deposit on the flower end of the fruits which makes them inedible and is in fact caused by a calcium deficit due to uneven watering. While the task can seem daunting for the newcomer, it is something which everyone can get used to eventually. A coat of white greenhouse protection painted on the roof of the greenhouse will prevent much of the scorching of the greenhouse plants during the hotter months and is a good investment. It is worth bearing in mind that every time a plant is watered, so much of the nutrients which the plants get from the compost, can be washed out of pots. These need to be replaced also with a general feed occasionally, in accordance with manufacturer's instructions. This fact needs to be born in mind after prolonged heavy rain on pots outside, when a light feed of general fertilizer such as Phostrogen will be beneficial. I trust the summer will be hot enough for the information to have some value.

UNACUSTOMED AS I AM... By Alan C. Porter

Innocent until proven guilty, that's what they say until you happen to go through airport customs.

The luggage has gone, labeled up and whisked away into the dark depths of the airport. Stern eyed customs officials have perused the passport picture and somehow matched it to the person proffering it. Mine has a sort of yellowish tinge coupled with a half smile, that is supposed to represent a nonchalant man-of-the-world look but looks more like a constipated lemon with eyebrows, even so I am waved on without question. The only obstacle now between me and faraway exotic places is the customs search.

Bag, coat, shoes, belt etc have been put on a rattling, clanking conveyor to be processed inside a black box with rubber flaps at each end.

Now comes the final part. It is my turn to go through the magic doorway. The doorway that sees everything even when there is nothing to see.

Hundreds have gone though before so why does it pick me to set alarm bells ringing?

It is time for the "pirouette of disgrace" as the officer with the black paddle advances and proceeds to wave it about like a demented orchestra leader as I slowly turn, arms outstretched feeling distinctly guilty until proven innocent. Finally, nothing suspicious found, although on this occasion I did have a hole in my sock I am waved on to join the thronging masses. The status quo has been restored and I am innocent to enjoy my holiday.

POST OFFICE

Hawkesbury Upton Post Office

Well, apart from a series of random power cuts at the start of June, normal service has been resumed.

As July approaches, we have a new range of umbrellas in stock (you know it makes sense) as well as a selection of lovely gifts for all occasions.

Just arrived is also a brand new range of children's books for those rainy days, including Amazing Machines, the spooky Goosebumps stories, and a range of What If...? books that provide the answers to all those vital questions, like "Could a Tiger Walk a Tightrope" or "Could a Shark do Gymnastics?". Oddly there isn't one on "When will Western Power provide us with a consistent power supply", but I guess no one knows the answer to that...

Feel free to come in and have a browse.

Dick Blundell

Hawkesbury and Inglestone Commons Officer

After years of decline, the last month has seen a turnaround in the fortunes of Inglestones rare adder's-tongue spearwort. Around 80 plants raised from Inglestone seed by Kew and grown on by Bristol Zoo Gardens, were planted out in late May. A further 2 plantings are planned in June to coincide with the plants coming into flower, the idea is to maximise seed set and drop on the common to provide the next generation of plants. The plants have been reintroduced into newly cleared areas adjacent to the Lower Woods drive and in Green Trench in conditions ranging from muddy to underwater. As water levels drop and mud dries out, seed should get trampled into the mud by mooching cattle. Monitoring will help to determine what combination of planting time and muddiness is most successful. Time will tell! There is more information on the BBC news website - search 'buttercup'.

Please come and find out more information at a 'buttercup walk' on Tuesday 12th July 6.30 - 8.30 pm at Lower Woods car park. No need to book, but good boots essential!

Local volunteers have been checking the ponds on and adjacent to the commons for the presence of great crested newts which use ponds for breeding. We already know there is a resident population, but how have they been affected by the scrub clearance? I'm pleased to say they have been found in all of the ponds surveyed. Many thanks to the volunteers for this valuable information.

We hope to collect wildflower seed again, this year from Yarley Meadow SSSI adjacent to Inglestone Common to spread onto less flowery grassland. We anticipate there may be a surplus. If you would be interested in any seed for a wildflower patch in your garden then please do get in touch.

A couple of useful phone numbers to pass on, water leaks can be notified to Bristol Water on 0800 801011 with post code, potholes in South Gloucestershire to 01454 868 000.

Thank you!

A Massive THANK YOU ! to everyone in this fantastic community that has supported me over the last 12 months in my mission to raise money for the RNLI and complete a rather big personal challenge.

I set myself the challenge last march to start running. When I had conquered the dizzy distance of three miles by early May (just after the 2015 London marathon), I decided that running was doing me the world of good physically and mentally. I was processing a rather traumatic event that our family had been involved in.

I decided that over the next 12 months I would raise as much money as I could for the fantastic charity that supports brave volunteers who risk their lives to save others in our seas and waterways The RNLI. My challenge was to run a 5k, 10k, half marathon and then a whole marathon. I hoped this would be the London, but had to wait a few months before I heard if that was to be my event – all within the next 12 months.

Well my challenge was completed on April the 24th this year. :-) I did it in 5 hours 56 minutes and with lots of help and very generous donations from people I raised £4115. Thank you. I couldn't be more grateful.

Over the 12 months I ran the 5k Park Run, the Torbay 10k, the Hogweed Hilly half marathon, the Gloucester 20 Miler and, as well as many training miles before doing the London, that was a really long way! But it was an amazing, unique experience that I had secretly wanted to do since I was 10. To add to the day, Geoff was running the London Marathon too, a little quicker than me, so he was there to see me in, along with Abi and Will, Jim O' Brian, Dave Anderson and Vicki Parker – a special thanks to them.x

There has been a lot of talk in the media and politics about the importance of mental health and the care that is given. I don't think I am being dramatic if I say that 18 months ago I was forced to start a journey that I had no choice over. A traumatic event by the sea with our family, began a lot of new fairly unpleasant, uncontrollable emotions and feelings that I had no experience or reference for dealing with. By 12 months ago I needed my challenge to help me get back on an even keel.

I'm sharing this because my experience may help someone struggling with processing something in their lives and I would be very happy to help if I can.

Hawkesbury Show – Carnival NEWS

All entrants to the Carnival this year should not only complete the relevant entry form in the Show Schedule but must also register with Carnival organiser, Sally Bleaken, on The Plain, on Showday.

There will be a registration table, situated in The Pound, the grassy area to the right of the entrance to Hunter's Mead. As each entrant registers, they will receive a numbered sticker to wear, to indicate which class they have entered. At the same time, they will get their hand stamped so they can get free entry into the showground. Parents, relatives or carers of young children entering the carnival, as walkers or on a float, can have their hand stamped for free entry too, but only one adult per child! (Remember, under 5s have free entry anyhow)

Check out the 9 carnival classes listed in the Show Schedule, and start putting your costume together soon. Only 2 months to go to Showday!

Three Historic Moments

As I write this post, we're poised on the brink of three historic milestones.

Firstly, the one that will be done and dusted by the time you read this magazine: the EU referendum, though the after-effects will be long-term. Whichever way the nation votes, I shall still call myself a European, because that's what I feel like in my heart, and if anyone begs to differ, I shall cite the definition of our geographical continent.

The second major event is the US election. Whichever way the results go, they will be groundbreaking: first female president (Clinton) or first president for 60 years not to have previously held a publicly elected office (Trump). If Trump trumps Clinton, here's my solution for keeping him in check: instead of his proposed wall along the US/Mexican border, let's build a wall around Trump.

The third big event may go unnoticed on the world stage, but it's big news by Hawkesbury standards: the reopening of the Hawkesbury Shop under community ownership. When future generations write the next volume of A Monument to Hawkesbury, this event will surely merit a chapter of its own, filled with fond reminiscences of Anne Weston and her team, who for so long have been a mainstay of our community. There'll also be admiring tributes to how harmoniously the village pulled together, led by an excellent committee, to ensure a smooth change of status to benefit all concerned.

I think European and US politicians could learn a lot from studying our community.

WANTED

The Hall Committee are always looking for volunteers to help with the management and maintenance of the Village Hall, but we have a specific need for two key roles and would welcome interested people to put their names forward for the following posts:

Chairperson – The current holder's term comes to an end in January 2017 so we are looking for a new Chairperson. The role is very rewarding as it involves the co-ordination of the resources to operate the Hall for the benefit of the community. This includes monthly meetings, Annual Returns for the Charities Commissioners, co-ordination of the maintenance working group, booking, marketing and grant group, Hall trustees, provision of insurances, health and safety assurances and numerous other activities. Fortunately these are all supported by a willing and active group of volunteers. This is a real chance for someone who wants to give something to the community. If stepping into this role seems a bit daunting then join the committee and a phased introduction can be arranged.

Bar Licensee – the Hall operates a bar and as such has to have a licensee, we currently have one but we need another person to help out and eventually take over. This is a key role and allows the Hall to provide an all-round service. The licensee does have to go on a one day training course.

All interested parties please email chris@coombeview.com in the first instance or call Chris Rispin on 232910 for more information.

St Mary's PCC Hawkesbury

On behalf of the PCC we would like to thank everyone who made the recent Flower Festival 'The Musicals' such a success.

The Flower arrangers who interpreted their theme so well.

The Entertainers who brought the flower arrangements to life through song and speech surrounded by the accompaniment of the Piano/organ at the Preview Evening whilst we nibbled tasty canapé's and sipped refreshing wine whilst leisurely admiring the floral arrangements.

The team who co-ordinated the refreshments, those who put up marquees, tidied the Churchyard, prepared the areas for parking, manned the Church throughout the weekend, and last but not least everyone who came along to support the event, I have to say from far and wide

We raised an amazing £2750 which will help to maintain this amazing ancient monument known to us all as our Church St Mary the Virgin

Thank you everyone who supported.

LETTER FROM BOB KAVANAGH

who recently contacted the Hawkesbury Writers to arrange to collect copies of all the Monument books.

Thank you ever so much for getting the books together and ready for me to collect on Tuesday, it was very kind of you. I've skimmed through them and look forward to reading them thoroughly, as soon as possible.

It's a great idea to have an historic record of everyday folk and the things that made their lives tick, especially when you are familiar with the names, faces and events, So a big thanks to you and your fellow writers.

I was born in "The Big House" in the 50's and then lived next door to the Underwood family at Petty France (now the Bodkin House Hotel).

Although we moved away from the area when I was still young, we spent every summer holiday in the village, the Black and White coach would drop us off at Dunkirk where we would get collected by Sonny Coombes.

Days were mostly "playing down the coombes" which always included making bows and arrows, walking miles and drinking from springs. There were also hours spent loitering on the plain, waiting for the first sight of the fair arriving ready for Hawkesbury Show.

We had an extended Christmas holiday in 1963 when the snow came in a big way, and although photo's and film footage always highlights the roads being cleared, my memory recalls the men folk all working together to gain access to the rather basic toilet at the bottom of the garden.

Fond memories include climbing the monument at every opportunity, making scarecrows for the show, listening to Ernie Paynes singing in The Fox and lugging endless buckets of water from the stand tap on the plain.

Life in the village at that time seemed pretty basic, running water was a luxury!, but it seemed odd to me that we were sometimes accused of being a bit posh by some of the local kids, We actually lived on a council estate in the midlands with lino on the floor and no car, yet when you looked at the clothes we wore there was a subtle difference and the village did look very tired in those days, unlike today's estate agents dream.

Thanks again for helping with the books, I'm sure I will look at them often.

Regards, Bob Kavanagh.

Hawkesbury & Horton WI

We were fortunate to have a perfect summer evening for the Garden Meeting in June at Collyn's Mead, home of Sally, Lady Macfadyen. Sally had provided us with a list of flowering plants and trees to aid our exploration of the beautifully maintained and diverse garden which contained so many areas of interest to delight the eye and senses. It was nice to know that Sally's mother, Mrs Molly Harvey was a past President of the WI too. It was a big thank you all round as we concluded the evening with a picnic supper. Thanks also to the Methodist Church for loan of tables and to the Gardening Club for use of the urn.

'HAWKESBURY AT WAR – A ROLL OF HONOUR' BY SIMON BENDRY

Congratulations to Simon Bendry on the launch of his book 'Hawkesbury at War'. Simon first became interested in the War Memorial at Hawkesbury Upton when he was eighteen and an A Level student here. His research into the names of those on the Roll of Honour from the two World Wars has taken him eighteen years to complete, and in this time he has visited many graves and memorials in Northern Europe.

Old and new villagers alike will be fascinated by the insights that Simon gives into the lives of the men and women from the Parish who served (and often gave their lives) in the two World Wars. Simon's interest led him to apply for a job with the Government as National Education Co-ordinator for the First World War Centenary Battlefield Tours and he is currently helping to organise an all night vigil at Westminster Abbey on the night of 30 June/1 July to commemorate the Battle of the Somme, which the Queen and Duke of Edinburgh will attend.

This book is an excellent addition to the growing range of history books about our Parish.

'Hawkesbury at War' is available to buy from the Village Shop or Post Office at a cost of £15.

South Gloucestershire Councillor's Report

Devolution

By the time the magazine is published the Council will have voted, most likely, to go forward with the Devolution Deal with the Government. Even at this late stage many of the details are still to be finalised. The government is promising £900m over 30 years between the three authorities (Bristol/BaNES/SGC). North Somerset has pulled out.

A newly elected metro-mayor is part of the deal –this deal gives the Mayor a great deal of power over planning, transportation, highways and housing; they will work – cabinet style - with the leaders of the three councils. The Mayor will have the power to raise money on the business rate as well as through the Council Tax. The money will be for infrastructure, mainly transportation; Adult higher education has already been devolved. On briefings received so far, it would appear the rural areas will be getting a rough deal, having to compete with the urban and growth areas for any funding.

PLANNING

The Council meeting on the 29th June will also have discussed the Local Plan. This includes adopting many planning polices already in place. Most contentious is the Local Green Spaces, many Council owned pieces of land have not been included in this designation, including The Plain, The Pound and the allotments, nor does it include the Commons; objections have been received to including them as Green Space. Check out the papers on www.southglos.gov.uk

Included in the published papers is the Full Call for Sites list – there are seven sites around Hawkesbury Upton which have been identified.

Further consultation will take place in September on Housing sites as part of the Joint Strategic Plan

The Total Transport Fund – which is funding a project to find the gaps in access to health services – the interim report is now available, sad to see rural volunteer car schemes only included latterly.

SGC has received £15,000 to promote cycling, Bikeability Recycled, training in South Gloucestershire,(pleased to say Hawkesbury School is involved). will now include:

- Learn to ride – basic cycling skills and road safety
- Balance – cycle training for reception class pupils
- Ride – community rides to local facilities such as libraries etc
- Transition – accompanied rides from primary school to pupils' new secondary schools
- Fix – basic maintenance such as puncture repairs etc taught by mechanics

- Promotion – opportunity to try training outside of the Bikeability structure, such as at parents' evenings where parents can ask trainers any questions directly.

Health – the Scrutiny Committee at its last meeting looked at the performance of all the local health trusts, and how they deal with complaints, which is not very effective. The Ambulance Trust response times for South Gloucestershire are very poor and under target. The Health Scrutiny Committee is also looking at End of Life Care. If anyone would like to get in touch with me regarding this matter, please do so.

There is currently wider consultation on support for dementia sufferers and their carers.

Good to see Network Rail holding a further drop in (this one at Old Sodbury) regarding the electrification of the line. This gave neighbors the opportunity to raise matters of concern with their officers. The impact of the gantries has been raised in the Chilterns and North Sussex Downs AONBS and a panel has been set up to look at the design of the gantries used in the AONBs.

Village Walk – Saturday 30th July 2016

Wonderful summer sunshine just calls for a walk in our beautiful parish. We're walking on Saturday 30th July and would be delighted to welcome you along. Our route will take us down through the woods St Mary's church, then along to Pound Farm before going across the fields to King Lane and Horton Farm. From here we cross the fields again to emerge opposite Horton Court and St James the Elder church. Then along Horton Lane to Upper Chalkley Farm before climbing Broad Hill to return to Hawkesbury Upton via Bath Lane and the village cricket ground.

We anticipate it will be dry so good walking shoes should be fine. The walk is hilly with a few styles but fine for people with relatively good mobility. If you want to bring along a flask of coffee, we always include a short stop to top up the batteries. Dogs are welcome.

Please meet in the Village Hall Car Park at 10.15 am for a 10.30 am start.

At the end of the walk we'll be returning to the village where we would be delighted to welcome you to join us for a quick BBQ at The Beaufort. It's a really nice way to finish off and says thank you to our local Landlord who is always so supportive to other organisations in the village.

If you would like to receive email notification of future walks, please contact Jane Jones on rightsofwaygroup@hawkesburyupton.com or telephone 01454 238633.

HAWKESBURY UPTON TENNIS CLUB

July 2016

<http://www.hawkesburytennis.org.uk/>

“It’s tennis, Jim, but not as we know it”. To put it another way by the time you read this, or just as likely don’t, Wimbledon will be in full swing. The plucky Brits who have not already been knocked out in the qualifiers will be dropping like flies. There will be strawberries and cream, and people will grunt when they serve.

Some of our younger members have started to drift back from university, so the average speed of serves on club night has increased by about 35 MPH. The aged and infirm of the club are gradually getting used to dodging bullets again, and at least there are no grunts.

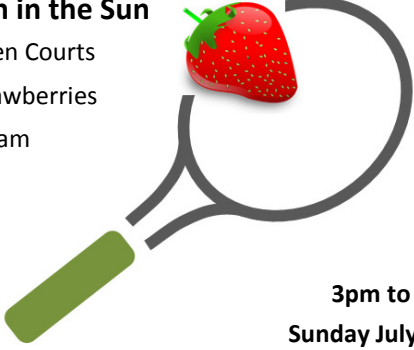

Strawberries and cream, on the other hand, do not usually move too quickly so we can all cope with them. On Sunday July 17th from 3pm to 5pm we will therefore have what The Seat has designated Fun in the Sun including open courts, strawberries and cream, silly games and all that sort of stuff. All equipment will be provided, including spoons. We will see what we can do about the fun, though the sun bit is more a hope than an expectation.

The Seat, in case you did not guess, is the form of address that Tricia, our new leader, has settled on after much careful thought.

Speaking of which, last month’s encyclical failed woefully to provide a fitting tribute to our departing chairman, Howard Bradley. He had been at it so long that he has sort of become part of the fabric of the club. Many thanks, Howard, for years of hard work and good humour, keeping us all on the straight and narrow.

Well, what a splendid achievement! We have seen yet another magnificent flower festival, perhaps the most magnificent yet, and I wonder how many people realise all the work that goes into it? First of all, there are weeks of planning, raising suggestions then discarding them, before the final decision. Then there is at least a week of creating the displays, accompanied by rising at 5.0 am to go to the flower market in Bristol to buy the necessary flowers and foliage. Finally, during the festival, there are tweaks to the displays, watering and removing any flowers which show signs of wilting. We offer our appreciation and congratulations to everyone who took part, but especially to Mary Beresford and Linda Fairney, who designed the festival and created a number of the displays. Thank you to all of you who created an arrangement, supplied items, or gave funds towards the success of this wonderful event

Hawkesbury School will be visiting St Mary's on 18 July for Messy Church, when they will be making objects, painting, and generally making a lovely mess, just before the end of the school year

We look forward to the Friends' Jazz on the Lawn on 3 July from 1.0 pm onwards at Collyns Mead, Back Street, by kind permission of Sir Ian and Lady McFadyen. The Friends' events are always very enjoyable, so do come along.

Sunday 3rd July, 1pm onwards. Jazz on the Lawn!

This year our venue will be the lovely garden at Collyns Mead in Back Street, by kind permission of Sir Ian and Lady McFadyen. Bring picnics, tables, chairs, rugs and enjoy a relaxed afternoon of lively music. Pimms, beer and pork-filled baps will be among the many tempting treats available for sale, £10 per ticket, children free, available at the gate on the day.

Saturday August 27th, Hawkesbury Show!

Once again, the Friends' refreshment tent will be offering Pimms and a welcome chance to sit down to all those in need of a break from Dodgems, archery and the excitement of the Show tent.

November: we are planning a sequel to our recent very successful wine-tasting evenings, so watch the space!

Blooming Great Tea Party

Thank-you to all who came and supported our tea party in aid of Marie Curie.
Thanks also to all the helpers. Together we raised £200 for this very worthy cause.

Letter from the Vicar – July 2016

Dear Friends,

This month I would like to continue on my round of telling you about our churches, and it is time to tell you of a very precious jewel of a church in our Benefice St. Mary's, Boxwell.

This is a 13th century parish church, with a 14th century north aisle. This extra aisle in which the organ (and only heater) is situated, gives the little church a feeling of spaciousness.

The Royal arms painted over the chancel arch are very splendid and well worth seeing. They are the arms of William III after the death of Mary, but the initials and date have been overpainted to read 'A.R. 1702'. I am not quite sure why these arms are here, but I am sure a member of the Huntley family could tell us.

The chancel, which was rebuilt in the 20th century, has a timber panelled ceiling, but the chancel rail is much older, early 17th century.

The font has a fabulous pedigree and in the west end of the nave is a marble memorial to Rev. RICHARD HUNTLEY, MA, died 1831, by Cook of Gloucester. It has an obelisk ground and shrouded urn. There are many other memorials to enjoy and wonder over. The church stands in a very secluded position adjacent to Boxwell Court. These are private grounds, so best to either come to a service to see the church or to ring the Huntley family.

It is a lovely little church and we hold services there on the 5th Sundays of the month in decent weather (next one on July 31st at 9.30 BCP HC). Evening prayer is said there on most Tuesdays at 4.30pm. Best to check first.

Best wishes,

Richard Thomson.

News from Hawkesbury Upton Literature Festival

Since our second Festival on 23rd April, many people have asked me whether there'll be another, because they enjoyed it so much - or because they missed it, but want to catch it next time.

Good news! The 3rd Hawkesbury Upton Literature Festival will take place on Saturday 22nd April 2017, running all day. More details will be unveiled nearer the time.

In the meantime, we'll be holding a "Pop-Up" Lit Fest - a mini festival - at the Village Show on Saturday 27th August. The Show Committee have kindly invited us to pitch our bookstall tent again near the Pimms area. We'll have at least six authors in residence on our stand, happy to chat to you about their books and to sign and sell copies, and they'll also be doing a series of readings throughout the afternoon in the peaceful setting of the Village Hall tea room.

To find out more about Festival plans, please visit our website: www.hulitfest.com. You might also like to join our email mailing list so that we can keep you posted as our plans develop. We may also be staging some small literary events in between August and April.

Thank you very much for your continuing support and enthusiasm for Hawkesbury's very own Lit Fest, and if you have any ideas or suggestions for future festivals, I've love to hear from you.

Just a thought...

I recently met a couple pushing a young adult in a wheelchair from the cricket pitch up to the Cotswold Way. I commented on the fact that it would be quite hard-going, as the grass was taking over on the path. Once we carried on our way with the dog, I thought about how they would also run the gauntlet of dog poo on the path. So please spare a thought for those pushing wheelchairs or buggies and bag it and bin it!

Latest Phishing Scam

A new phishing campaign which has hit students of UK universities claims that the student has been awarded an educational grant by the Department for Education. The email purports to have come from the finance department of the student's university and tricks the recipient into clicking on a link contained in the message to provide personal and banking details.

One victim reported that after submitting their sensitive information (including name, address, date of birth, contact details, telephone provider, bank account details, student ID, National Insurance Number, driving licence number and mother's maiden name), they were taken to a spoofed website which appeared like a genuine website of their bank, where they were asked to type in their online banking login credentials.

Protect Yourself:

- Do not click on any links or open attachments contained within unsolicited emails.
- Do not reply to scam emails or contact the senders in any way.
- If an email appears to have come from a person or organisation you know of but the message is unexpected or unusual, contact them directly via another method to confirm that they sent you the email.
- If you receive an email which asks you to login to an online account via a link provided in the email, instead of clicking on the link, open your browser and go directly to the company's website yourself.
- If you have clicked on a link in the email, do not supply any information on the website that may open.

If you think you may have compromised the safety of your bank details and/or have lost money due to fraudulent misuse of your cards, you should immediately contact your bank, and report it to Action Fraud by calling 0300 123 2040, or visiting www.actionfraud.police.uk.
